

The Rational Role of Cognitive Phenomenology

---

TUESDAY JUNE 6

- 0830 – 0900: Coffee and Welcome
- 0900 – 1020: Joëlle Proust: 'Cognitive phenomenology: the mediating role of sensory information'
- 1020 – 1035: Break
- 1035 – 1155: Madeleine Hyde: 'What links the rationality and cognitive phenomenology of deliberation?'
- 1155 – 1210: Break
- 1210 – 1330: Franz Knappik and Ole Koksvik: 'Phenomenology and conscious Reasoning'
- 1330 – 1500: Lunch
- 1500 – 1620: Marta Jorba: 'Cognitive affordances and motivating reasons'
- 1620 – 1630: Break
- 1630 – 1750: Eli Alshanetsky: 'Reasoning with unarticulated thoughts'
- 2000: Workshop Dinner, Mark & Bein, Fosswinckels gate 18

WEDNESDAY JUNE 7

- 0900 – 1020: Mette Hansen: 'The principle of acquaintance, the argument from conceptual arts and cognitive phenomenology'
- 1020 – 1035: Break
- 1035 – 1155: Elijah Chudnoff: 'How might the phenomenology of intuition inform the epistemology of intuition?'
- 1155 – 1210: Break
- 1210 – 1330: Miguel Egler: 'Intuition, noetic feelings, and philosophical methodology'
- 1330 – 1500: Lunch
- 1500 – 1620: Jonathan Jenkins Ichikawa: 'The rational irrelevance of cognitive phenomenology'
- 1620 – 1630: Break
- 1630 – 1750: Tim Bayne: 'Cognitive illusions and the rational role of cognitive phenomenology'